

Abstract

This utility model involves a healthy bed for nursing. The bed is characterized in its bed body being a reticular fabric which is woven by water-proof fiber strands and has meshes. This device is not only simple in structure and low in manufacturing cost, but also easy to clean and suitable for babies and bedridden patients.